Back in the Day – February's at Church Hanborough 2005, 2006, & 2007

Since our first visit as part of an outing in 1998 we have been lucky enough to return to this friendliest of towers on something like twenty occasions since for quarter peals and open practice mornings, plus several of our band have rung for weddings and services at SS Peter & Paul church across the years

February 2005 saw some of us take the opportunity to ring there twice in four days. Firstly, a number of us joined their Thursday evening practice (Feb 3) and then we took a band over on the Sunday (Feb 6) for a quarter peal. In fact the first Sunday in February was long a constant on our calendar for a quarter peal and unfortunately there is only room to fit in a representative selection of photos.

On our arrival for the quarter peal in 2013 (and for several other visits) we were greeted by the most amicable ginger and white pussycat which liked to stroll the churchyard wall.
