Great to be back at Bletchington.

Firstly, thank you to Sue Macready for meeting us and also for taking the group photo for us, it was heartening to be able to meet up again. Bletchington is clearly one of the towers where the ringing hiatus hasn't resulted in time standing completely still, with time well spent on amelioration. From a quick browse of Bellboard, our efforts appear to be the first quarter peal on the bells since March 15th 2020, which Judy and Hugh also rang in.

3rd August

Tuesday was our busiest ringing day since resumption, starting with a visiting band from Warwickshire and the environs of Birmingham in the afternoon (they had already rung at Horspath, Iffley and Headington). Good to report that they were complimentary of our bells. In the evening we had our own weekly practice, the oscillations of which have now taken in four different days of the week since June so as to afford the largest band available.
