

MARSTON UPDATE

October 14th, 2021

Hugh Deam
Compiled by Donna Bennett
Issue #221

Saturday 2nd October

As probably all of you would have noticed, the weather was relentlessly wet on Saturday afternoon (Oct 2), but undaunted we were on the road for the second week running, this time ringing at Chilton, All Saints. This was our first time back since August Bank Holiday Monday 2019, but like a favourite pair of gloves or shoes things rapidly slipped back into a comforting familiarity at this most ideal of towers. A sincere thank you to our friends at the tower for giving us the green light to be the first visiting band since the very recent resumption of ringing there.

On the Sunday morning six of us rang a touch of Plain Bob Minor and a three part touch of St Martin's Doubles for the Green Church in the memorial garden, which this time incorporated some bulb planting. In the evening there was a choral evensong at Holy Trinity church, Headington Quarry, with their choir combining with the St Nicholas choir, and our vicar being the preacher for the service. A reciprocal service is scheduled to be held at St Nicholas early next year.

A - Z Miscellany

U

Uffington, St Mary

We are back inside the church this week, starting with the memorial to Thomas Hughes QC (author of Tom Brown's Schooldays) which is to be found in St Mary's church. Also to be seen here is a strikingly recumbent memorial to parliamentarian John Saunders (1590 - 1638).
(Outing Saturday 21st October 2000)

